

I'm a single Christian woman and I live in a three bedroom home with a fenced backyard in a quiet neighborhood. I enjoy attending church activities, attending sporting events, reading, going to movies, spending time with my family and friend, as well as finding things to do that I've never done before such as attending a murder mystery dinner and going to Medieval Times. I have also traveled to over 30 states.

I come from a close family that includes my mom and dad, four sisters, one brother, eight nieces and nephews, and two great nephews. They will love him/her as a member of the family because he/she will be a member just as each of us is.

As a family we enjoy just sitting indoors or outdoors talking, watching TV, going to church, etc. My sisters and I do all kinds of different things together.

I would like to thank you for considering me for the awesome task and responsibility of raising your child. This is something that I have anticipated for years and look forward to nurturing him and providing him with a safe, secure, and loving home in which to live, learn, and grow to become all that he can be.

I'd like to teach him that he is a gift from God and that God and you, as their birth parent(s), gave me the opportunity to be the person to teach him about all that life has to offer. Also, to teach him that because he was loved so much you took the time to select the person to raise him. Your child will be given the opportunity to experience many activities such as sporting events, cultural events, history, Christian activities and all that life has to offer.

I enjoy reading and look forward to choosing different age appropriate books to read to him and as he learns to read I look forward to listening to him read for himself. I also look forward to the time when he will be able to run and play in the backyard with his friends. It will also be rewarding to watch him discover his own interests and talents and be able to nurture those interests and talents.

Finally, I want to assure you that your child will be loved, protected, nurtured, and raised to be confident, well adjusted, and a secure member of my family.
