

BYRON & AMY

To the Birth Parents and Family:

Thank you so much for taking the time to read our letter and considering us as adoptive parents for your wonderful child.

Words cannot express the respect and admiration that we have for you and the decision you are making. We can never fully understand or imagine the emotions that you are feeling, but know that we are praying for you, that you have the faith that you need to find the right family - one who will love, cherish, and share in the blessing of your gift of life.

Home

We live in a three-bedroom, one bathroom home in a family neighborhood. We are walking distance from an excellent school and playground. In the evening, our street is filled with the sounds of children laughing and playing. We can't wait for the day our child will join in the fun.

What I love about Amy?

One of the things I love about Amy is her connection to her family and friends, and how much they all mean to her. She has such a great connection to her nieces, nephews, and friends' children. I have found that this love for her friends and cooking comes from growing up in Colombia at the mission.

I also love that she is a very outgoing person who is very driven, which explains her love of doing half and full marathons

Why Adoption

We have always wanted to be parents, but are unable to have children due to infertility, so we have chosen adoption. We know it does not matter how a child enters our family. What is important, however, is that we have such love, joy and family heritage to give. We look forward to sharing our heart and home with your child.

What I love about Byron?

Byron and I met on an online dating site. One of the things that I loved about him was his sense of humor. I quickly found out that in addition to his humor, he is a complete gentleman. To this day, I never open a door when I'm with him... And the opening of the door is always preceded by a kiss...

I'm blessed to have a man that brings a peaceful calm to every situation – nothing stresses him out. He's constantly shows me how much he loves me. Being with him makes me want to be a better person.

Our Pets

Gizmo is a wonderful 7 year old grey/black Maine Coon cat. He has truly come out of his shell since Amy entered our life. It is fun watching him try to play with Buddy in the backyard.

Buddy.... We rescued Buddy through DFW Chihuahua Rescue group. Since we got him, he has "thanked" us by loving on us every chance he gets..
